

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. The current Indiana law has been very successful in stopping the annoying calls I used to receive at every hour of the day and night. I now have virtually no harassing calls from telemarketers. Please do not lessen existing state law with FCC regulations.